

Imperial College London - One of the World's Top Research Universities

- Research-led, science-based university with 17,000 students across four colleges: science, engineering, medicine, and business.
- The university was founded in 1888 and now counts 15 Nobel laureates amongst its staff and alumni.
- Research Excellence Framework (REF) 2014 found that Imperial College has the greatest concentration of high impact research of any UK university
- QS World University Rankings 2016/17 – 9th in the world
- Times Higher Education World University Rankings 2016/17 - 8th in the world, 3rd in Europe

Centre for Climate Finance and Investment at Imperial College Business School

Mission to unlock the capital markets to address challenges related to global climate change

Inter-disciplinary research drawing upon the deep technical expertise within Imperial College

Combining academic rigor with industry insights to deliver independent research and analysis

Investigating risk-adjusted returns across a spectrum of technology and infrastructure research themes

Upcoming Research

- AI for Climate Adaption: Using Machine Learning to Estimate Optimal Agricultural Technology Investments
- How Much Green Is Good For You? Black-Litterman Views on Green Asset Allocation
- The Performance of Listed Vehicles for Renewable Energy Income Plays in the US and the UK
- Volatility of Solar Energy Real Asset Portfolios – The Case for Diversification imperial.ac.uk/business-school/climate-investing